

Incentive search made simple

It's obvious that the real estate industry is going green at a rapid rate. So, whether you are planning a new construction project or an existing building upgrade, you should start with IncentiFind. Our national database for incentives was created for all types of residential and commercial projects. It is the only database that can quickly match your project to incentives using a two-minute survey.

Start your search for incentives today by visiting our website and filling-out a survey. It's free, quick, easy, and you will receive your SEARCH Results in minutes.

After you receive your SEARCH Results, you can purchase our VERIFY Report - a list of incentives your project is eligible for. Our VERIFY Report also provides step-by-step instructions on how to APPLY to the incentives your project is eligible for. You can also take advantage of our APPLY Services, and let us do the applying for you.

ABOUT INCENTIFIND

We are the nation's go-to database for home improvement and real estate incentives. We simplify the search for incentives into three-easy-steps:

01 find incentives, 02 determine eligibility, and 03 apply to eligible incentives. IncentiFind is utilized by building owners, real estate developers, property managers, facility managers, homeowners, builders, installers, architects, engineers, real estate law firms, real estate tax firms, lenders and many others nationwide.

Our database boasts over 12,000 incentives. We house incentives from federal, state, county, city, and utility level government. In our database you will find tax incentives, grants, rebates, fee waivers, free assessments, bill credits, and many more incentives that promote a wide range of green measures (such as economic development, energy efficiency, water conservation, renewables, electric vehicles, historic reuse, etc.). Our APPLY Dashboard seamlessly integrates with our database to make verifying your eligibility and applying to incentives quick, easy, and provides a single place to track your cost-saving incentives.
